

THE BIRCHTREE CENTER
THE INTEGRATIVE HEALING ARTS PROGRAM
 Session Three: Manifesting the Healing Environment
 Wisdom House Retreat and Conference Center
 July 10 -13, 2003 ~ Litchfield, CT

The Integrative Healing Arts Program is an opportunity to revitalize your nursing practice and rejuvenate your body, mind and spirit. You will study with the top faculty in the field. In Session Three we examine the meaning of healing environments. We deepen our exploration of concepts from the seven core curriculum areas as we place an intentional focus on defining, re-defining and co-creating healing environments in various health settings. The foundation and framework for integrating medical music therapy and guided imagery is offered within the context of holistic nursing practice. Integral with the learning experience is the inclusion of time for inner reflection, relaxation and connection to a supportive community of nurses. A pre-requisite to Session Three is completion of the Reflective Papers assignment.

Session One provides 23 contact hours. Participants who wish to achieve a Certificate in Integrative Nursing can continue by completing Sessions Four in subsequent sessions.

The program will be held at Wisdom House Retreat and Conference Center that is nestled in the foothills of the Berkshire Mountains in western Connecticut. Wisdom House spans 54 acres of meadows, woods, and brooks, offering an experience of peace and tranquility. Indoor and outdoor sanctuary areas, an outdoor labyrinth, and sun porches provide an environment that encourages meditation, reflection, and creative thinking. An outdoor swimming pool is available during the summer months. Wholesome meals are created by the staff chef. Massage and yoga will be available. This is a place to truly nurture your body and soul. Directions will be provided with a confirmation letter upon receipt of registration.
